Dear Cerec® User,

The Australian Society for Computerised Dentistry (ASCD) was established during the 2002 CEREC® Masters Symposium in Sydney.

The Society was an initiative of a working party of interested Cerec users from all states of Australia. The ASCD has established links by affiliation with the International Society for Computerised Dentistry, and in 2007 will be an ADA, Inc "Affiliated Society". The object of the group is to foster interest and advance expertise in all aspects of computerised dentistry as well as being a CEREC® users group. A strong focus for the Society is using the Internet as the primary means of communication for members.

The ASCD provides members with

- A subscription to the society newsletter, ByteWise, delivered to you 4 times a year
- Continuing Education, as well as hosting of web-based information exchange for computerised dentistry in Australia
- An annual conference, 'CadCamCon'

The Yahoo-Groups-based Australian Cerec Users Group is called "AuSCD". Financial members have access to this Group. You should obtain a "Yahoo! ID" and log in now for tips, tricks and help from experienced users. The home page for this group is <http://groups.yahoo.com>.

The society also operates a website, www.ascd.org.au

Although Australian Cerec users are spread far and wide the ASCD has created a community to enjoy the benefits of a group of like-minded enthusiasts. The executive hope that you will support us by joining today. The fees for 2007 are $155 plus GST.
